

MARIE CURIE | RESUME

Professor

📍 School of Physics & Chemistry, École Normale Supérieure
🏠 mariecurie.com

☎ +1 22 3333 4444
✉ Marie.Curie@ens.fr

About me

- I trained in civil engineering before being adopted into geography.
- My areas of interest include spatial analysis, spatial statistics, transportation, travel behavior, cities.
- Also, too, mathematics, computer languages, science fiction, poetry, and memes.
- I have been known to look professorial on occasion.
- At this rate my only hope of being recognized is as the most promising oldest researcher in my discipline.

Education

PhD - McMaster University- Hamilton, ON, Canada 2022-2026

- Title in Progress

M.A - McMaster University- Hamilton, ON, Canada 2020-2022

- What is Happening Where? An Evaluation of Social Science and Traditional Knowledge Research Trends in Nunavut (2004-2019)

B.Sc - McMaster University- Hamilton, ON, Canada 2016-2020

- Community Satisfaction of Bicycle Infrastructure on McMaster Campus in Hamilton, ON

Current Status at McMaster

Full Professor in the School of Earth, Environment and Society since 2014. Tenured since 2007.

Employment History

Academic

Research Assistant - School of Earth, Society and Environment, McMaster University- Hamilton, Canada September 2020-Present

Teaching Assistant - School of Earth, Environment and Society, McMaster University- Hamilton, Canada September 2020-April 2022

Teaching Assistant - School of Geography and Earth Sciences, McMaster University- Hamilton, Canada December 2019-April 2020

Student Partner - McPherson Institute, McMaster University- Hamilton, ON, Canada September 2019-April 2020

Industry

Surveyor and construction site supervisor (August 1993 – March 1995) Topographical survey projects in Nuevo León, Mexico, sponsored by various Municipal Public Works Departments (Monterrey, Guadalupe, Santa Catarina), and by Mercedes-Benz. These projects involved in-field data collection and computer aided design. Construction site supervision.

Areas of Interest

Spatial data analysis and statistics; transportation modeling; travel behavior; health geography; Geographic Information Systems.

Honours

Visiting Professorships

Scholarships

Graduate Scholarship - McMaster University- Japan

September 2020 - April
2022

Southern Ontario Economic Development Council Scholarship - McMaster
University- Canada

Jun-18

Scientific Awards

Lifetime Publications

Journal Articles

1. Polidoro, A., Perrin, A., Buttle, C., Sinclair, L., Regena, & Shirley, J. (2022). Research trends in nunavut based on scientific research licenses [report]. McMaster University, Carleton University, and the Nunavut Research Institute, 1–29.